TRADITIONAL BARBER SHOP X CITY WALK

GROOMING AND THE CITY WALK EXPERIENCE IN HONG KONG! EXPLORE DIFFERENT STYLES OF HONG KONG TENEMENT HOUSE, GROOMING EXPERIENCE IN THE TRADITIONAL BARBER SHOP.

In the 1950s to 1960s, a large number of Chinese people migrated south to settle in Hong Kong, including many barbers from Shanghai and Zhejiang. The barber shops they opened in Hong Kong were called "Shanghai Barber Shop". Compared to Cantonese barbershops, the Shanghai Barber Shop incorporated Hong Kong culture and provided meticulous and thoughtful "one-stop" services, including hair washing, hair cutting, shaving, and ear cleaning, all done by a single barber. It was a symbol of quality and a cultural phenomenon in Hong Kong at that time.

However, with the rise of chain stores and modern hair salons, Shanghai barber shops are also facing talent loss and succession issues. It is rare to find Shanghai barber shops still operating in Hong Kong. In light of this, we will lead you to delve into the experience of this endangered craft, allowing you to create a brand new look in Hong Kong and capture stylish photos in the iconic tenement buildings that exude Hong Kong's unique charm!

WELLNESS RETREATS IN HONG KONG

EXPERIENCE A JOURNEY OF WELLNESS IN HONG KONG WHICH COMBINING YOGA, BUDDHISM, AND THE HEALING POWER OF NATURE.

The itinerary includes vegetarian meals, a visit to Po Lin Monastery to learn about Buddhist teachings, and a guided outdoor yoga session led by professional yoga instructors. Immerse yourself in the beauty of nature and rejuvenate your mind, body, and soul!

Po Lin Monastery was founded in 1906 by three monks from the Mainland's Ch'an (Zen) School in Jiangsu province, who used a small stone house as the site for teaching Buddhist practices in Ngong Ping. Its symmetrically arranged complex of buildings, including the Main Shrine Hall of Buddha and the Grand Hall of Ten Thousand Buddhas, and bell and drum towers, features assorted architectural designs inspired by the Song, Ming and Qing dynasties.

The Big Buddha statue, also known as Tian Tan Buddha, on top of the 479-metre-high Muk Yue Shan, beside the monastery's main square, is the world's largest seated outdoor Buddha. The 34-metre-high figure, created from 202 pieces of bronze weighing a total of 250 tonnes, symbolises the stability of Hong Kong, prosperity of China and peace on Earth. Construction of the project began in 1981 and was officially opened in December 1993. Energetic visitors can climb the 256 steps to visit the hall inside its base, and also enjoy the impressive view as they look back down at the monastery.

The Wisdom Path, a large-scale outdoor installation featuring calligraphy carved into 38 wooden columns, which stands at the foot of Lantau Peak. Wisdom Path were erected in 2005 to resemble the bamboo tiles used for writing in ancient China. They are inscribed with simple, but profound calligraphy of the 'Heart Sutra' by the late Jao Tsung-I, an internationally renowned Hong Kong calligrapher and artist, and arranged in a figure-8 configuration to symbolise infinity. The installation's eye-catching location, dynamic design and enlightening message of 'non-attachment and unhinderedness of the mind' ensures it remains a hugely popular Ngong Ping destination among visitors — and regularly features in Instagram posts.

HONG KONG STREET FOOTBALL CHALLENGE CUP

PLAYING FOOTBALL WAS THE HAPPIEST THING IN MY CHILDHOOD MEMORIES, AND I BELIEVE MANY FOOTBALL ENTHUSIASTS HAVE ALSO DREAMED OF BECOMING A FOOTBALL PLAYER WHEN THEY WERE YOUNG...

There was an article online that mentioned even if you were Messi or Cristiano Ronaldo, it would be impossible to achieve success in football in Hong Kong. This got me thinking; it means that for those Hong Kong people who didn't become professional footballers, they may have hidden talents that can only be showcased in street football. With that in mind, we have decided to organize a search for the undiscovered Messi or Cristiano Ronaldo of Hong Kong in the realm of street football.

Inspired by football, we will be hosting a one-day street football tournament where visitors can participate. Visitors can form their own teams from different parts of the world and compete against our amateur teams from Hong Kong, while also having the opportunity to watch a Hong Kong Premier League match. Enjoy the unique experience.

Football x Travel x Cantonese : This tour will revolve around the theme of football, combining football with the concept of travel. you will have the opportunity to experience Hong Kong's football culture and interact with local football enthusiasts during a day of their visit to Hong Kong. We will provide Cantonese pronunciation materials related to football terminology in advance, allowing you to immerse themselves in our football culture and learn some Cantonese phrases!

Hong Kong Premier League : it is a professional football league organized by the Hong Kong Football Association and the highest level professional football league in Hong Kong. The concept can be traced back to the 1980s when the dominant team Seiko SA, led by MR Keeree Kanjanapas, proposed the establishment of the Hong Kong Premier League. All football teams have commercial sponsors as their team names, and each team has a minimum requirement of 6 foreign players, which is different from the current mainstream foreign player cap. The first season of the Hong Kong Premier League started in the 2014-15 season, replacing the Hong Kong First Division League as the top-tier football league in Hong Kong. Kitchee was the inaugural champion. We will arrange for YOU to watch a Hong Kong Premier League match and experience Hong Kong's football culture!
